

103.04 BOND REQUIREMENTS

The Engineer may make changes in the work or add extra work within the scope of the contract without notice to the sureties (bonding companies) (Specifications, Subsection 104.03 - Changes and Extra Work). If the value of the contract increases through the issuance of change orders or quantity variances, the bond still covers all work performed on the contract. The fees paid by the Contractor for payment and performance bonds are based upon a percentage of the actual value of the contract. Some bonding companies adjust their fees when the project is completed. For example, if large value change orders occur, the Contractor may make a request for the department to issue a change order to cover increases in the bond fees. This is acceptable provided the Contractor supports the request with invoices from the bonding company.

Performance Bond (See Exhibits 103.04-1 and 4)

A performance bond guarantees and ensures completion of the contract. Idaho Code requires a performance bond on all department contracts, regardless of size. The bond amount is for 100% of the contract amount. A surety company authorized to conduct business in Idaho must execute each bond. Government obligations may be used and must be delivered to the department for safe keeping prior to award of the contract.

Following the decision to award the contract, contract bond forms are included with other documents and forwarded to the successful bidder for execution by the Contractor, surety company, or government obligation representative. The Roadway Design section shall assure that the bond, along with other documents, is fully executed and incorporated into the contract before the contract is signed by the department's authorized representative. The State's official copy of the contract bond is filed along with other original documents at the District office. Government obligations are filed with the State Treasurer or a bank acceptable to the State Treasurer.

Payment Bond (See Exhibits 103.04-2 and 3)

The payment bond guarantees and ensures that a successful contractor will pay every claimant who has furnished labor, materials, and rental equipment, as well as pay all taxes when due (required by Title 63, Chapter 15, Idaho Code, in the prosecution of the contract).

A payment bond is required of all department contracts regardless of size. The amount of the bond is 100% of the contract amount. A surety company authorized to conduct business in Idaho shall execute each bond. Government obligations must be delivered to the department.

Following the decision to award the contract, payment bond forms are included with other documents and forwarded to the successful bidder for execution by the Contractor, surety company, or government obligation representative. The Roadway Design section shall assure that the bond, along with other documents, is fully executed and incorporated in the contract before the contract is authorized and signed by the department's authorized representative.

Idaho Code 54-1927 indicates that any supplier of material, labor, or equipment who has not been paid in full before the expiration of ninety (90) days after the day on which the last of these services were furnished shall have the right to sue on the payment bond for the amount or balance unpaid. In cases of subcontracts, the statute indicates that if a material, labor, or equipment supplier furnished these services to a subcontractor where no contractor relationship is expressed or implied, the subcontractor shall not have the right of action unless the subcontractor has given written notice to the prime Contractor within ninety (90) days from the date on which the last labor, equipment, or supplies were furnished. The subcontractor must notify the prime Contractor by a registered or certified letter.

Idaho Code 54-1927 also addresses the statute of limitations that can vary with each instance. Department personnel should not try to interpret the law for outside individuals. Suppliers and other entities that request such information should be referred to the law for their own interpretation or that of their attorney. When inquiries about the interpretation or procedures to follow concerning a payment bond are made, they should be referred to the Assistant District Engineer or the Construction section.

Title 63, Chapter 15, Idaho Code states in part that "the Contractor will pay promptly, when due, all taxes (other than on real property), excises, and license fees due to the State, its subdivisions, and municipal and quasi-municipal corporations therein accrued or accruing during the term of the contract." The payment bond also ensures payment of these taxes.

A copy of the bond and the contract shall be supplied to anyone or their representative making an application who submits an affidavit that labor and/or materials has been supplied and for which payment has not been made. Standard copying charges may be assessed in accordance with the Financial Services manual. If a certified copy of the bond is requested, the Engineer can make the certification. The certification statement may be written on the back of the document as follows:

I (Resident/Regional Engineer's name) certify this document is a true copy from contract (insert number).

Signed (Resident/Regional Engineer's signature)
